

Appendix 2: Creating a myGarmin Account

Please only follow this walkthrough if you do NOT already have a myGarmin account.

The following steps will show you how to create a myGarmin account and add or register your units within the account. Your myGarmin account can then be used for ordering updates, unlocking new mapping products, adding new units, subscribing to additional services such as safety cameras, Garmin Mobile, etc.

Step 01: Please go to the main Garmin website at www.garmin.com. You will see the page below. Please click on the circled link.

Step 02: This link will take you to the "Sign" In page of myGarmin and this is where, once you have created your account you will be able to log in the future.

Once at this page please click on the circled link.

Welcome to myGarmin™

Welcome to myGarmin - your site for accessing the latest software, accessories and services for your Garmin product. From here, you can register your Garmin unit or unlock a cartography mapping product. Soon, you can come to myGarmin to purchase certain products and accessories or subscribe to Garmin Online services for traffic options, custom points of interest (POI) downloads such as safety cameras, customized vehicle icons and more. You'll also be able to get the latest software and cartography updates and sign up for e-mail notifications direct from Garmin. Check back often - we'll have something new to show you.

Please make sure each field is filled out correctly. Then click the 'Finish' button highlighted above.

If any details are refused by the system please just correct them and try again. If the username has already been used you must select another. If your email address has already been used then you have already set up a myGarmin account and you will need to log into it. Please contact us at cartography.europe@garmin.com with all your relevant details and we will issue the username and password.

Step 04: Once the details are correct you will be taken to the screen below:

Now that you have created your myGarmin account you need to either register your unit if you have never done so before or if you did register the unit using the old unlock system you need to add the master coupon code to your account. If the unit is not linked to your account you will not be able to order or unlock your update.

After logging in, make sure you go to the 'Home' page of your account. You can do this at anytime by clicking the circled link in the screenshot below:

As you can see I have highlighted each option:

Product Registration – If your unit has never been registered or you are registering a brand new unit you need to click on this link and follow the onscreen instructions, the process is quite simple and the website will take you through step by step.

MapSource Unlock – If your unit was registered using the old system you need to link that registration with your myGarmin account. Once you have clicked on this link there is an option on the next page to 'Add Code' by selecting this and adding your 7/8 character coupon code you will add your unit to your account.

Once your unit is linked to your account it is through this option that you can unlock any mapping for that unit, unlock any updates etc.

Safety Camera Subscription – If you have a compatible unit you can utilise the safety camera subscription through this link. The compatible units can be seen listed by clicking on the link. Once again the process is set out simply so it is matter of following each step.

Garmin Mobile for BlackBerry – At the moment this is only available in the US.

Once you have a myGarmin account and your units are registered within the account you can order your update. Please see the walkthrough 'Ordering and Unlocking Your Update' for further details.
